The Greek government, mindful of the services of Lord Byron to Greece, and desirous of seeing them commemorated, has offered to supply whatever quantity of Pentelic marble the Byron memorial committee may require for the monument free of all cost, and that the expenses of its transit will be paid out of the Greek Exchequer. A site on the Thames embankment will be offered to the committee.

A GREAT calamity has befallen Galveston, the most populous and most thriving city of Texas. Our dispatches bring us the information that a storm has swept upon the Gulf, unprecedented in its fury, filling the harbor and rolling the waves high over the flat, low island on which the city is built. The entire city has been inundated, its harbor improvements swept away, and thirty persons are known to have been drowned, while it is still feared that a change in the direction of the storm may enhance the disaster and bury the entire population of the city in one watery grave. A more terrible calamity than is threatened this beautiful city can scarcely be conceived. Let us hope that the worst fears may not be realized.

A WARM DEBATE.

An interesting discussion took place in the Convention on Tuesday in relation to the duties of the Secretary. We think the Secretary knows his duties. Mr. Johnston Jones, as Secretary of the Senate, won high honors. As Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives we followed a different rule.

We regarded resolutions, bills or ordinances as general in character. But amendments seem to have come from special demands of constituency, and therefore we elaborated them in full. We established a precedent, we hope not an offensive one, but one that ought to be followed out in legislative practice. We think members of the Convention or of the Legislature are entitled to a full expression of their opinions.

THE Hon. B. F. Wade made his first appearance in the Ohio campaign at Jefferson, Ashland county, a few days ago, where he introduced ex-Gov. Hayes in a brief speech. After telling his audience that he should go to his grave ashamed of them if they allowed the Democrats to carry the State, he settled the whole question of corruption at Washington with this comprehensive statement:

"I know that nowadays we hear public men maligned on every hand. Now, I say that these sweeping charges of rascality against the public men of the Republican party at Washington are not true. I have been there in Washington some time, and I don't know as they ever accused me of stealing anything, and I say these charges are not true. I do not deny that the Republican party has rascals in it, as well as other parties, but these charges are made for political effect. The Republican party has done more to make the Republic permanent than any other party."

FIGURES are eloquent. More than any thing else they are accurately expressive. They never lie. Let them tell the recent growth of Democratic power in the United States: In 1870, four Democratic Governors; in 1875, twenty-four Democratic Legislatures; in 1875, twenty-four Democratic Legislatures. In 1870, twelve Democratic members of the House of Representatives of the United States; in 1875, one hundred and eighty members of that body. In 1870, twelve Democratic members of the Senate of the United States; in 1875, twenty-eight members. Thus the Democracy are progressing. Thus they are gravitating to the possession of the power of the Federal Government. They will attain it in the Centennial year.

The Charlotte Observer says "the result of the election in Orange to fill the vacancy in the Convention occasioned by the death of the Hon. W. A. Graham, is exceedingly gratifying for a number of reasons. The first and foremost is that it is a direct endorsement of the action of the Democrats so far in the Constitutional Convention, by the people of Orange. When we reflect that Maj. Patterson's majority (703) is double that given that spotless statesman, Hon. W. A. Graham, and more than double that given Mr. Turner, we naturally ask why this increase in the Democratic vote? The reason is plain. The people have opened their eyes. The voters of the State were fooled and frightened by the misrepresentations of the Radicals before the late election. Now, since the assembling of the Convention, they see it all and are anxious to make amends for their folly. We wish that the question could be submitted to the people of North Carolina now for we feel sure that Convention would carry the State by twenty thousand majority."

MEETING OF THE TAXPAYERS OF CRAVEN COUNTY.

We alluded yesterday to a circular issued by certain prominent gentlemen of Craven county, appealing to the Convention now in session for relief from certain grievances now bearing upon them. Those grievances are not confined to Craven. They bear on the whole East.

We do not dislike or oppose the negro. On the contrary we would help and elevate him. But in his present status we will not accept him as the law maker or the law giver. We go to intelligence and experience for our rule of action. Can the most ardent friends of the race say that they are qualified to assume control over the white man? We do not put him down or keep him down, but we take him as he is. The demand of the Craven county meeting is just. It must be met by the Convention. That body must look to propositions to the benefit of the East. It must relieve it from the weight of ignorance. If necessary it must go back to the old County Court system. That of County Commissioners has been happy in portions of the State, in others it has been a burden. Let the matter be well considered.

OUR cotemporary, the Petersburg Index-Appel, has the following to say of our Convention: "While the election of the Conservative candidate to the Constitutional Convention of North Carolina, from Orange county, gives the Conservatives a clear working majority of two or three in that body, the numbers are too nearly equal for any extreme measures of revision to be successfully undertaken. A very considerable element of the Conservative majority is distinguished for moderation, and under the leadership of gray-headed men of experience and knowledge in public affairs, they will not be likely to make their work too sweeping. A number of important amendments to the Constitution have been introduced and referred, but so far the Convention appears to have discharged very little work of real importance. We are surprised to see that one of the foremost questions before the Convention and the public has reference to the pardon of W. W. Holden, the partner of Kirk in the Ku klux raid, and of Littlefield and others in the Railroad raid on the Treasury. A good many papers of such respectable standing as the Oxford Leader advocate the pardon of Holden, and his restoration to citizenship and eligibility to hold office under the State. In our humble opinion the Conservatives would not wisely in not returning to this crafty and treacherous man the weapons for mischief of which he was deprived when he was impeached and convicted by the Legislature, and expelled from office. We see no good reason why he should not still remain under the stigma of civil disgrace and banishment from power that was then put upon him. If restored to citizenship, he will find some means to revenge himself on the people by whom he thinks he has been persecuted. We predict that the policy of giving the old man another chance will be bitterly regretted should it be adopted with more of generosity than justice by the North Carolina people."

Rocheport, who escaped the dangers of an open boat experience from New Canaan, was nearly drowned by an upset on Lake Lenawee, at Geneva the other day. His daughter upset the craft, knowing well that a man born to be hanged could not be drowned.

There is a very general impression that Democratic stock in Ohio has gone up steadily since the Maine election.

How W. A. Graham of North Carolina—A Scene in the Senate Chamber.

We find the following interesting historical incident connected with North Carolina, which brings within its scope men now to be found in the Capital building in the interest of their State, in a recent number of the Macon (Ga.) Telegraph and Messenger. The article was written by a gentleman a native of Raleigh, who is at present living in Macon: "The death of the Hon. William A. Graham the announcement of which I read in this morning's Telegraph and Messenger, recalling to my mind a scene in the capital of the once 'good old North State,' that I never can forget, and in which Mr. Graham was quite a prominent actor. I was a boy then, but through the death of Mr. Graham, the last of the old time, the scene suggested the writing of this. Let the giants rest; they served their generation well. They passed their last sleep—they are free from all pain. No sound shall awake them to glory again. Truly, O, S. Macon, Ga., August 12, 1875.

Beecher Not a Dead-Head. We find the following in the New York Sun defending Mr. Beecher from any dead-head propensity: "Mr. A. B. HALLIDAY—Dear Sir: Yours of the 9th inst., making inquiries in relation to the report which has been published concerning Mr. Beecher's paying his board by preaching, and our having trouble with him on account of breach of contract, &c., at hand, and in reply would say that there is not the least shadow of truth in the statement, and that such a subject was never thought about until we noticed it in the New York Times. We have never had any controversy with Mr. Beecher on this subject, and the best feeling exists between us. Mr. Beecher has always paid his board in past seasons, and we have not the slightest doubt but that he will do the same this, when he leaves us, and he has never charged anything for preaching, nor do we think such a thing ever entered his mind. A. T. & O. F. BARNES, Twin Mountain House, Sept. 8, 1875.

The seat of the French Government being at Versailles, while the general service of the Government department is at Paris, speedy communication between the two is a matter of moment. Mr. Grespin proposes to establish a subterranean pneumatic service, such as exist in London and New York, and to carry parcels by the tube would make the journey from Paris to Versailles in ten minutes at the rate of a little more than a mile a minute.

The official vote of San Francisco for Governor, as published by the San Francisco Chronicle, is: Timothy G. Phelps, Republican, 5,179; John Bidwell, Independent, 6,881; William Irvin, Democrat, 14,199. For Congressmen: Rankin, Republican, 6,741; Swift, Independent, 6,102; Poir, Democrat, 12,417.

Gen. Johnson denies that he has been offered the command of the Khedive's army. The question, Where do the pins go? is far less important than the query, Who starts the newspapers?

The Democratic Senators from West Virginia are divided on the currency question, one being for hard money and the other for paper.

GENERAL ITEMS.

The Massachusetts Democratic State Convention—Republican Nominations in Maryland—Editorial Note—General Affairs in New York—The Liberal Republicans of New York.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 22.—The Democratic State Convention met to-day. Edward Avery, permanent chairman, in his address, said that the annual autumnal meetings at the South no longer direct the attention of the people from the local, mismanagement and corruption of those in power. Men begin to discover that the blood is artificial, and the agony manufactured, and are ready to administer the affairs of government like their own private affairs.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 22.—The adjourned meeting of the Republican State Convention assembled to-day. The Committee of Conference, consisting of the representatives of this Convention and two reform wings, agreed upon the following candidates: Governor, Morrison; Attorney General, S. T. Wallace; Comptroller, Ed. Wilkins. The Convention confirmed the nominations. Four counties were unrepresented. The resolutions declare against further extension.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Four negroes have been arrested, charged with murdering a peddler at West Farms. The goods were found in their possession.

Prof. James Garland may recover. In the inquest of the aerial ladder deaths the chief engineer attributed the break to an extended endurance and too many men secured. He considered the ladder safe, but more than one man cannot ascend to the top section safely.

Five hundred dollars reward offered for the child Joseph Sullivan, whose disappearance was reported a week ago.

A suit commenced in the United States Court against R. S. Allen, clothier, who is charged with receiving $12,000 for marine clothes which he never furnished.

ALBANY, Sept. 22.—The Liberal State Convention has three hundred delegates. General John Chalmers is permanent chairman. Resolutions have been offered and referred, endorsing Tilden's reform measures and recommending the party to vote for persons who are personally and politically in sympathy with him and the reform measures which he inaugurated, and hereby recommend liberal republicans to vote with the democratic ticket.

The Liberals in Session at Albany.
ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 22.—The following platform has been adopted by the Liberal: There can be no sound currency but coin or paper convertible into coin on demand, without the speedy resumption of a specie basis. A national disaster threatens civil services which needs reforming. It deprecates the forcible interference with the State rights; condemns the administration; endorses Tilden's action against the central bank; recommends the liberal and independent voters to support those candidates already in nomination of whom they most approve and who in their judgment will co-operate with Gov. Tilden in his work of administrative reform.

Miscellaneous Items.
A Boston dispatch says that Vice-President Wilson refuses to be a candidate for Governor.

The London Pall Mall Gazette says the supplies of money is large, and that paper is scarce.

A Belgrade dispatch confirms the reported insurgent victories. Trebavne is again surrounded.

The front of an old building, being excavated at Atlanta, cave in yesterday, killing one negro and bruising another.

The Republicans of Massachusetts have nominated Wm. Gaston for Governor and Wm. F. Bartlett for Lieutenant Governor.

Dr. Lintan, Director of the mint, has returned from his visit to the Pacific coast and expresses himself satisfied with the operations of the several mints, including that at San Francisco.

A Waymouth (Ireland) dispatch says the Pastoral of the Bishops intimates an intention to establish a Catholic training school for ministers, under the care of the Vincentian fathers. They say the primary system of education is more than undisturbed.

RESIGNATIONS—KELLOGG IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The Assistant Attorney General, Walter H. Smith, heretofore at the Interior Department, and A. S. Reddington, Chief Clerk of the same office, have resigned.

The Navy Department has advised of the safety of the Rio Bravo in Galveston harbor. She will go to Houston for supplies.

Gov. Kellogg, of Louisiana, had a conference with the Attorney General regarding the affairs in Louisiana and Mississippi. Kellogg approves of the course of the Attorney General, and thinks his letter to Ames characterized that State.

The Attorney General has telegrams from persons of both political parties in Mississippi commending his letter to Ames.

While the internal revenue receipts this month are satisfactory to the Treasury Department, those from customs are less than those for the corresponding month last year.

There now remain only twenty-eight million of the new five per cent. bonds for negotiation. No further call for the redemption of the old bonds will be made until demanded by subscriptions to the new.

THE BALTIMORE SUGAR TRADE.
The Baltimore Sun says: One of the temporary disadvantages Baltimore is already beginning to experience from complications in the sugar refining interests is in having raw sugars that were brought here for boiling, now sold to refiners in other cities. Much of the raw sugar here and cargoes to arrive are sold to cash purchasers, and as only one Baltimore refinery is buying, purchasers are sought elsewhere.

On Tuesday two cargoes were sold to Philadelphia, and another sugar has been made in the past few days to other points. Alexander Brown & Sons have made Fisher, Bros. & Co. agents to sell their large stock of sugar at market rates, which is being done. Until the affairs of the Baltimore refineries are settled and operations are resumed anew, the sugar importing trade of the port will be restricted.

The paper of the Calvert Refining Company was offered at the Baltimore Stock Exchange yesterday, and was quoted 60 and asked, and 25 bid. Some members of the Stock Board were averse to having the figures quoted on the published lists, but it was decided to make them known.

Whenever District Attorney Wells of Washington turns over a bundle of old papers he seems to find further evidence of the corruption which prevailed under the eye of his predecessor, for whose retention ex-Gov. Shepherd fought so hard, and whose removal has secured only through the continued persuasions of two of the members of the Cabinet. The President is doubtless convinced by this time that Judge Pierpont and Gov. Jewell were right in their position to Mr. Fisher. The latest revelations tend to show that official incompetency was the mildest offense with which the late District Attorney and his assistants might fairly be charged.

A Tennessee paper announces the death of Mr. Slusher, and says: "He was only nineteen years old, and when young had a very severe attack of rheumatism, which drew him out of school. Mr. Slusher had been crippled he would have been nine feet high. His foot was eighteen inches long, and one of his hands was about the size of four ordinary ones. He could not sit on a chair and pick up anything three feet from him. He measured seven and a half feet around the chest."

So far the majority in the Serbian Legislature have refused all compromise with those who are in favor of repaying in peaceable terms to Prince Milan's speech. The prospects of the insurgent cause are so far that it is not surprising that their Serbian friends refuse to abandon them. With Russia, Germany more or less sympathetic, Austria indecisive, France powerless, and England indifferent, the situation is as satisfactory as could be desired by the revolutionists.
